MICK DIERDORFF

2018 & 2022 TEAM USA SNOWBOARDCROSS OLYMPIAN, 2019 WORLD CHAMPION

Mick is a humble and loyal guy, with a huge passion for the outdoors, family, friends and fun. Growing up in Steamboat Springs was the perfect environment to get involved in winter sports and Mick was cruising down the ski slopes at 18 months old. At the age of 10, Mick strapped a snowboard on his feet.

After years of crushing races, Mick faced transitional and financial challenges going into world championship races. His parents were his biggest support, but taught him you have to earn everything in life. At the age of 14, Mick started learning construction trades, which quickly turned into a passion of his.

He struggled to rekindle his passion for the sport of snowboarding after a couple years, but remembered his dreams of making it to the Olympics and being one of the best in his sport. After narrowly missing the 2014 Olympic team, he continued to work his way up to qualify for the 2018 Games and go on to become the World Champion in 2019. He made the Olympic team for the 2nd time in 2022 at the Beijing Olympics. He is currently training in Steamboat Springs, CO.
